REVEREND JAMES MITCHELL, S.S., C.C.

Dear Class of '68,

It is of little wonderment to me that for many Americans this seems a time of continuing crises. Change in areas of personal import always begets fear and confusion in those who lack perception.

But change can be good, and each generation has not only a right but a duty to dismiss the superfluous of the old and to expand those traditions that are fitting and worthy.

I cannot accept that we are faced today with a series of crises to be surmounted; rather, we are offered opportunities of expansion and growth which sometimes baffle us, which require delicacy in execution, but which ultimately offer great hope for all. Perhaps the spirit of our age is best summed up by George Bernard Shaw. "Other people," he said, "see things and say: 'Why?' . . . But I dream things that never were and I say: 'Why not?' "

Father Damien, whom we honor by our school name, spent his life bringing about change for those whom he served. Today, many young Americans are strong supporters of the Peace Corps and Vista. Damien was a true precursor of these movements; in accepting perpetual isolation from the outside world he demonstrated a degree of self-giving which cannot but serve as a beacon to those who follow.

Let the class of 1968 carry with it his ideals, thus insuring that the changes you envision will be changes for good.

Sincerely in the Sacred Hearts,
Reverend James Mitchell, S.S., C.C.
Principal

DEDICATION: FATHER DAMIEN

In keeping with our theme, this year's SPARTIATE is dedicated to Father Damien. Our school's new namesake, though of the nineteenth century, epitomizes the type of Christian love so extolled in our modern twentieth century Church.

Father Damien, ultimately ravaged, though never defeated, by the dreadful disease of leprosy which he so valiantly fought, set a high standard for Spartans who would dedicate themselves to his high ideals.

FROM OLD...TO NEW

It has been man's continual fault to be overly conservative or liberal. Too seldom does he realize that it is important to follow a middle course, neither to change things for the sake of change, nor to keep all to which he is accustomed. Man must be willing to retain what is best of the old, while at the same time experimenting with innovation. He must then find the courage to accept and implement that which is best of the new.

This year's SPARTIATE theme is "From Old to New." On the pages of this book we chronicle the rise of many new institutions and traditions built upon past experiences.

As we said, improvement takes courage. We hope that this book will form part of the foundation for even brighter tomorrows.

GUIDANCE OFFERED

This year's administration was truly a blend of old and new.

Father James Mitchell, in his second year as principal, continued to introduce many changes and consolidate gains made during the preceeding year. Bringing a renewed vigor to the main office was Father O'Loghlen, new Vice-Principal and Dean of Studies.

Returning were Father Dennis as Dean of Discipline, Father Dowling as Guidance Director, and Father Fergus as Public Relations Director. President of the Spartan Parents' Association was Mr. Frank Burns, who served as one of the principal's chief advisors.

With an influence sometimes strongly felt but more often inconspicuously applied, the administration directed Damien in the pursuit of excellence.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT TAILORS COURSES

FATHER JOSEPH McGEADY, S.S., C.C.
English

This year has seen major changes in the curriculum of the English department.

For the first time, each section of each class found that the course work had been tailored to their specific needs and abilities.

Under the chairmanship of Mr. Louis Kuhn, the department developed new extended courses in honors English and remedial English.

FROM INCEPTION TO PRESENT

Under the direction of department chairman Mr. Michael Tonsing, the social studies curriculum experienced growth and change.

Based upon a format of symposium discussions, extensive outside readings, and deep, probing research, the honors course in American history gave students an unprecedented opportunity to develop the skills of the historian. A revamped course in American government taught by Mr. Sterling drew seniors to consider America's role in international affairs. World geography and world history, taught by Father McSweeney and Father McCabe, provided a background of knowledge. Mr. Coston headed a business department that offered economics and business law.

BROTHER GERALD DUFFY, S.S., C.C.

FATHER MICHAEL BROOKS, S.S., C.C.
Chairman, Math Dept.

Damien High School's science department displayed a new look this year. Under the leadership of veteran science teacher Mr. Howard Teitelbaum, a new staff was assembled and the entire curriculum was updated. Mr. Boardman taught the new BSCS biology course in a newly equipped lab. Mr. Najjar brought new depth and experience to the chemistry and physical science classes. Brother Duffy introduced the department's sequence to freshmen, striving to familiarize beginning students with the ever developing language and technique of the sciences.

MR. MAWLUD NAJJAR

DISCOVERIES MADE

The mathematics department, headed by Father Brooks, also deepened and broadened its offerings. A pre-algebra course for freshhmen was introduced along with a new honors math course open to sophomores. Rather than the traditional course in trigonometry for seniors, the department offered a diversified program including elements of analytic geometry, calculus, and probability theory.

ALIEN TONGUES TAUGHT

Language is the basis of communication. To understand a country's culture, a basic knowledge of their language is helpful.

Damien High combined the old and the new in their language department by offering three foreign languages. Classical Latin which covers not only the pronunciation and translation of that language but also the culture of Rome was taught by the chairman of the language department, Father Michael Maher, and Mr. Kuhn.

The Spanish classes were taught realistically by Mr. Diaz and Father Gilsenan in that the emphasis was on the conversational aspects.

Father Fergus taught his students about France as well as the French language. With this background the students of Damien High have an advantage in understanding other cultures.

FATHER MICHAEL
GILSENAN, S.S., C.C.

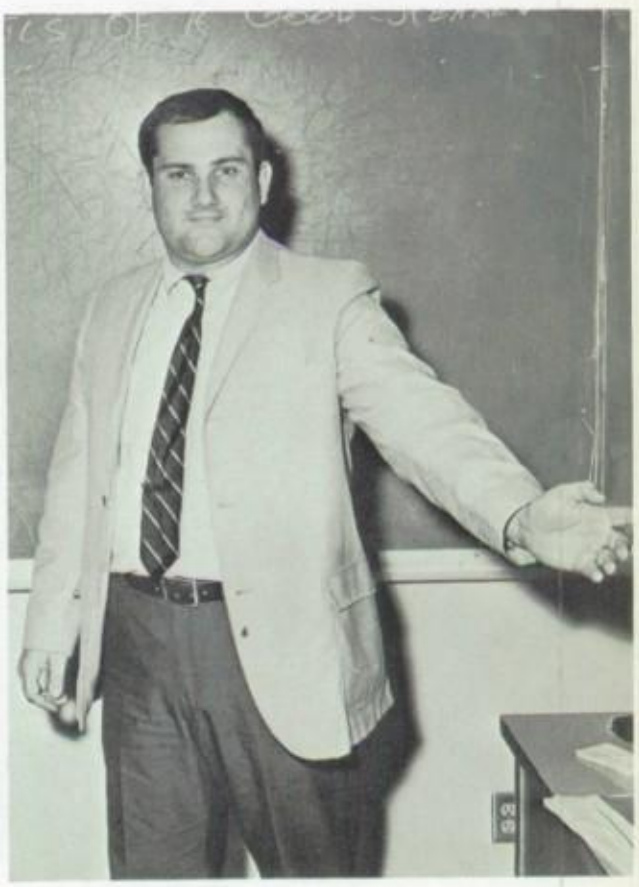
MR. EDWARD ADAMS
Speech



FATHER PATRICK SMYTH, S.S., C.C.
Chairman, Religion Dept.

The study of religion took on a new look at Damien High this year as the school initiated a modern approach to the subject. Father Smyth and his staff introduced a totally new text series in all classes. The new texts were designed to promote class participation and free expression.

Father Smyth, chairman of the religion department, was assisted by Father Dowling, Father Maher, Father McGeady, Father Gilsenan, Father McSweeney, Father McCabe, Father Murtagh, and Brother Duffy.

DEVELOPING SPIRITUALLY AND PHYSICALLY

A vigorous athletic program, with new athletic director Mr. Jim Knapp at the helm, has started what looks like a new era in interscholastic sports competition at Damien High School.

Surrounding himself with capable and imaginative coaches, Mr. Knapp seemed to inject a new pride and enthusiasm into the whole student body. Men like Mr. John Sterling, Mr. Ed Adams, Mr. William Costen, Mr. Richard Diaz, Mr. Elric Boardman, and Mr. Clarence Haynes, gave Spartan athletes a renewed will to win.

SENIORS LED THE SCHOOL...

Eight scheduled activities, one each month, highlighted a memorable year for Damien High School's senior class. The fourth year men enthusiastically undertook a number of fund-raising and fun-raising events; among them an October beach party attended by more than eighty seniors and their dates, a winter trip to the mountains, and a car rally. Dances sponsored by the class helped to enliven the social calendar and fill the class treasury.

Seniors provided leadership in sports and activities. Both the newspaper and yearbook staffs were shepherded by seniors, as were the school's many clubs. Senior academic standards were particularly high. Scores on various tests and individual successes in scholarship competitions confirmed the belief that the first senior class at Damien had set high standards and traditions for all who would follow.

JUNIORS MATURE

For the class of 1969, their junior year meant an increase in responsibility and leadership at Damien High School. Gone were the carefree days of their sophomore year. These were but happy memories in the distant past.

Juniors met the challenge of this transition period. They proved that they were able to accept the mantle of leadership which would soon be draped upon their shoulders.

Academically, the third year men found this year to be the toughest they had yet faced. Those who ran the gauntlet of the new honors courses emerged more enlightened, more informed, and more inspired in the diverse fields of literature, algebra, and American history.

Athletically, the class showed that it would not be outdone in the pursuit of success. Juniors played a key role in the highly successful football season. They also participated actively on the varsity level soccer, basketball, baseball, and track teams.

Socially, the juniors showed their talents by hosting a thoroughly enjoyable Prom. Much hard work and skillful preparation made such a fine Prom possible. Attendance and participation at other social functions was second to none.

All of these together indicate a maturing and capable junior class. As the graduating seniors leave, they can be assured that they are handing the reins of leadership to worthy students.

September saw a spirited sophomore class charge into the new academic year under the leadership of Pat Rodgers, president; Paul Schiro, vice-president; Paul Lucifora, treasurer; and Fred Andrade, secretary. Much of their sophomore exuberance was worked off on the gridiron, on the soccer field, on the track, on the diamond, and in the gym. A wide and varied program of activities included a number of dances, extremely vocal rally participation, an enjoyable trip to Disneyland, an exciting swim party, and successful competition in several speech contests.

Notable individual accomplishments ranged from athletics to academics, from classroom to dance floor. A very busy year passed swiftly and somewhat less than silently for the class of 1970 at Damien High.

FROSH BEGIN

The first freshman class of Damien High School proved to have much talent and spirit. As their secondary education began, they were introduced to many new experiences, most of which they handled with a high degree of composure. The freshmen became familiar with many new courses such as algebra, Latin, speech, along with the old traditionals of religion and English. They also were taught respect for the seniors during a three day period of orientation.

Athletically they were introduced to such sports as tackle football, soccer and baseball.

In other activities they showed a high degree of participation. During rallies their higher pitched voices were always to be heard.

This will be the first group of students to go through a full four years at the new Damien High. It is this more than any other class that will exemplify the change from "old to new."

A.S.B. OFFICERS

The Associated Student Body officers of Damien High School were elected in the second semester of their junior year. They then took over all duties, their teachers being the retiring A.S.B. officers.

During the summer they met with school officials to plan the upcoming year. Larry Cronin, Social Chairman, planned and carried out two summer dances to raise money for the A.S.B. treasury and provide for summer recreation. They were successes both socially and financially.

When the year started, the officers were eager to do their jobs well. President Frank Schiro presided at A.S.B. meetings, keeping order and listening to questions and grievances. Vice President Jack Burke headed the Interclub Council in the time of its existence, and backed up Frank in all matters of school business. Danny Carroll, Treasurer, kept a record of all monies going into and leaving the treasury. Brian Maloney recorded minutes of all A.S.B. meetings as Secretary.

One of the most successful projects of the A.S.B. was the free dance held March 3. This dance was the first of its kind: both admission and refreshments were free. A.S.B. Social Chairman, Larry Cronin, was in charge of the dance. He arranged all the details and everyone agreed that it was a fine success.

The A.S.B. officers are elected officials, charged with representing the student body in school affairs. The 1968 A.S.B. officers have met their responsibilities.

The Spartiate, following along with the new look at Damien, has a fresh new look of its own. With the addition of a Journalism Class at Damien this year, the Spartiate benefited greatly. One of the changes in this year's Spartiate is the publishing company, now Yearbook House.

SPARTIATE

A major improvement this year was the addition of color throughout the annual. The sports section was covered more thoroughly, as were activities and clubs.

The staff worked long and hard in order to provide the student body with a superior annual.

Along with the rest of Damien, the school newspaper had a new image. The name was changed to "The Laconian", representing the place in which the Spartans had lived.

The paper was published by a new company, greatly improving the appearance.

Editor-in-Chief Chris Miller, along with the rest of the staff worked long, hard hours to produce an excellent paper. Mr. Tonsing participated as an advisor, giving the staff an opportunity to experience the learning process.

The paper brought the news, both past and future, to the student body. The paper was also circulated among P.C. Girls', St. Lucy's, and the neighboring eighth graders.

HOMECOMING SPIRIT

The first Homecoming ceremonies for Damien High were held at half time at the Bishop Amat game. Linda McGready was crowned by the 1966 Homecoming Queen, Teresa Gaston. The court was made up of both Pomona Catholic and St. Lucy's girls. Princesses were Irene Goodwin, Vicki York, Chari Popjoy, and Terri Fee.

The candidates were nominated by the girls' schools and on the flip of a coin it was decided that the Queen would be from Pomona Catholic. The seniors from Damien made the final decision.

These two days will ever be remembered for their great spirit and for the plain fun shared by all.

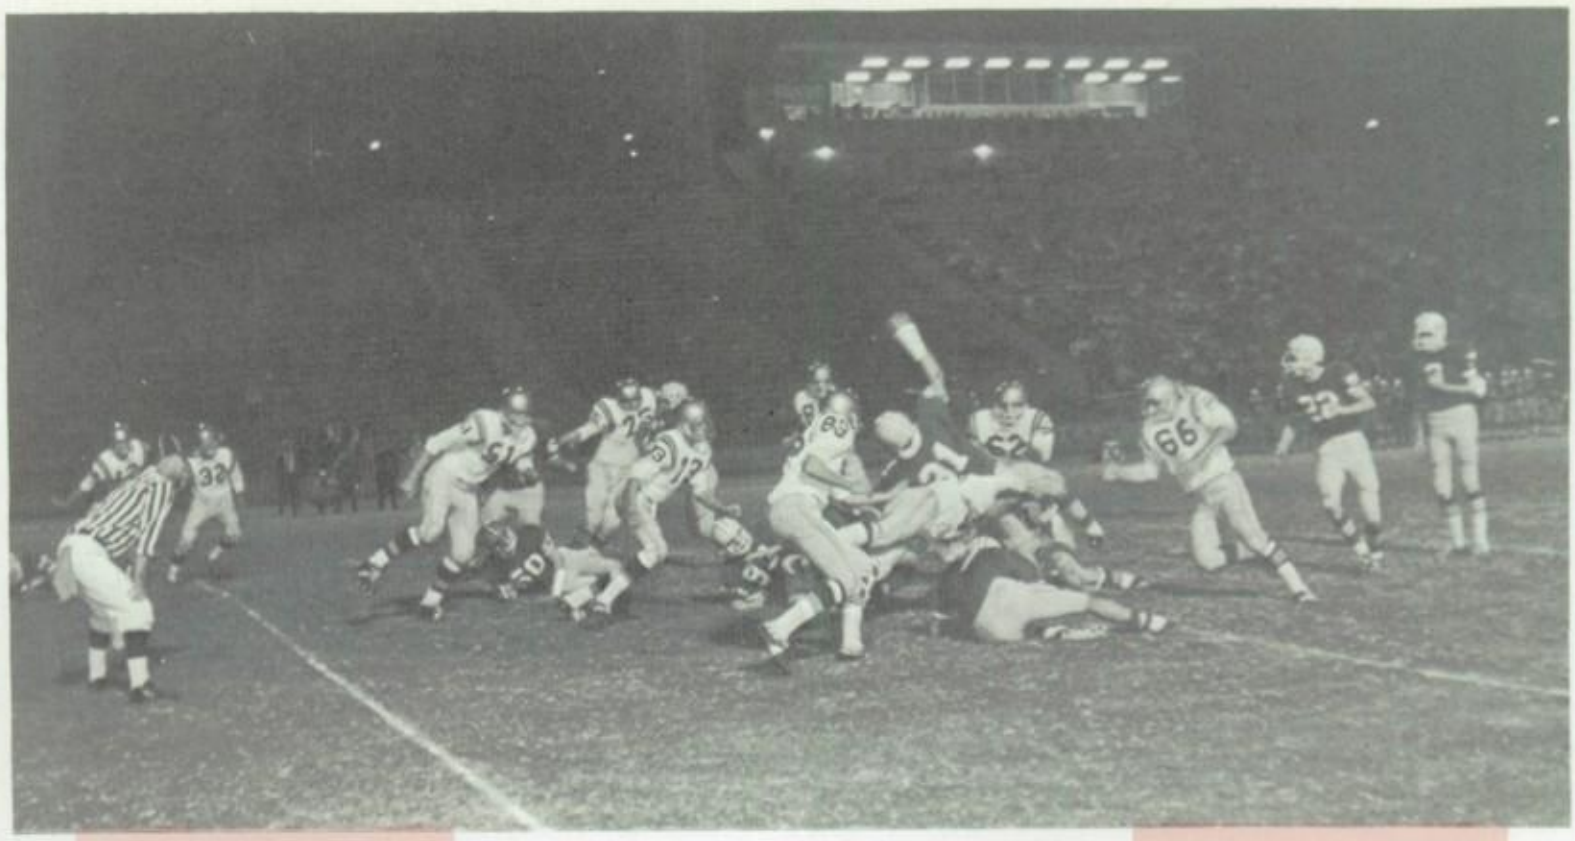
Damien's Spartans demonstrated once again their drive and spirit by defeating tough Fermin Lasuen.

The game was highlighted by the impressive performances of junior quarterback Pat Tierney and seniors Ken Margala and Mike Dufek.



The Damien Spartans 19-0 whitewash of perennial league champ Saint Francis was the first Spartan triumph over the Golden Knights since 1962.

The Spartans moved the Knights up and down the field for almost 400 yards in total offense while holding the opposition to a net gain of 49 yards. Tierney led the scoring and Mike Dufek rolled up 160 yards rushing.

Homecoming proved to be a decisive game during our Spartan season. The Damien Spartans with a 5 and 0 record came up against arch rival Bishop Amat.

Jack Burke scored Damien's only touchdown running 80 yards following a pass from Pat Tierney.

Jack Burke was named best offensive player and Pat Rogers received the best defensive player award. John Hennigan gained Spartan of the Week laurels.

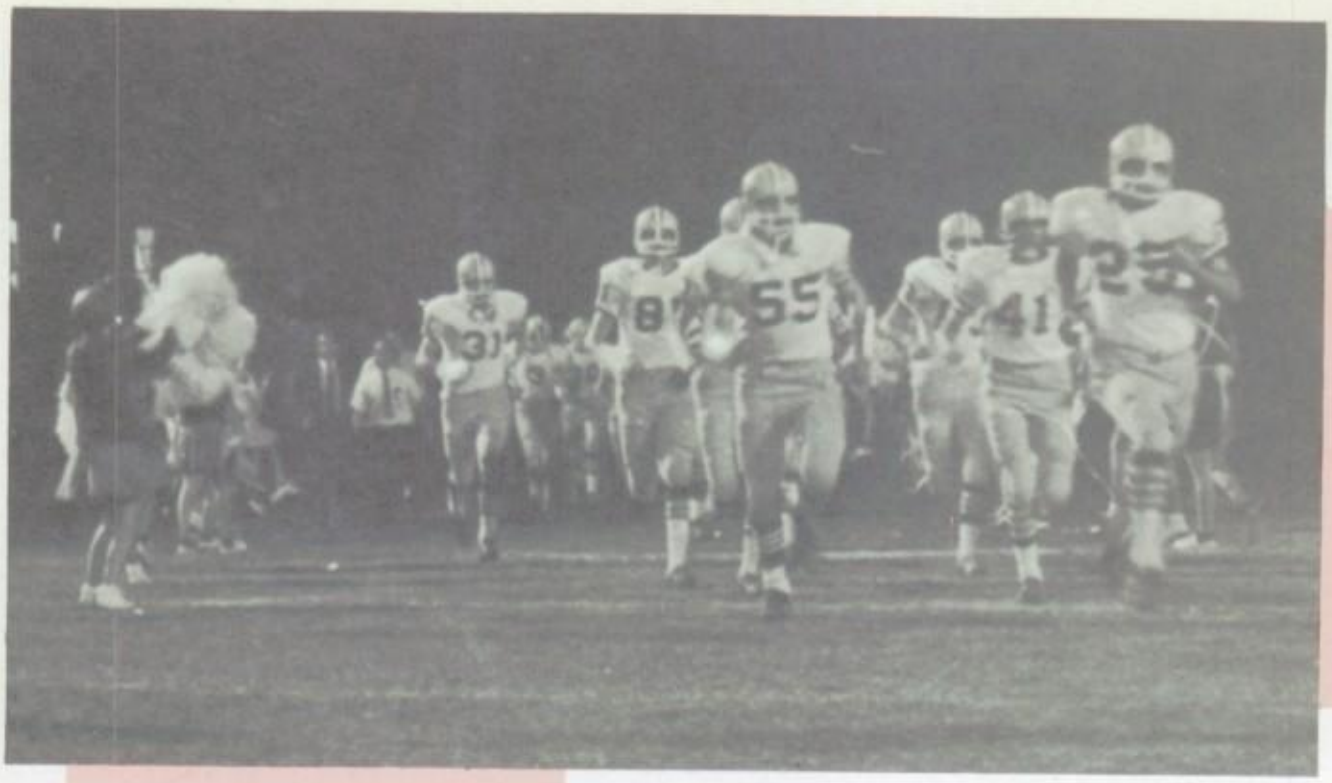
The "Green Machine" was working fast and furious as Jack Burke scored eleven plays after the opening kickoff.

Quarterback Pat Tierney scored from the one yard line on a recovered fumble. The extra point made the score 14-0. An additional touchdown was added to Damien's tally before halftime.

The second half was a defensive struggle as neither team was able to score.



The San Gabriel Mission game was to decide second place in the Santa Fe League and a possible CIF berth.

Mission struck hard and fast in the first quarter, scoring three times.

Damien's only score came in the first quarter when Mike Dufek plunged in from four yards out. Pat Tierney's passing was one of the few bright spots for the Spartans in their loss.

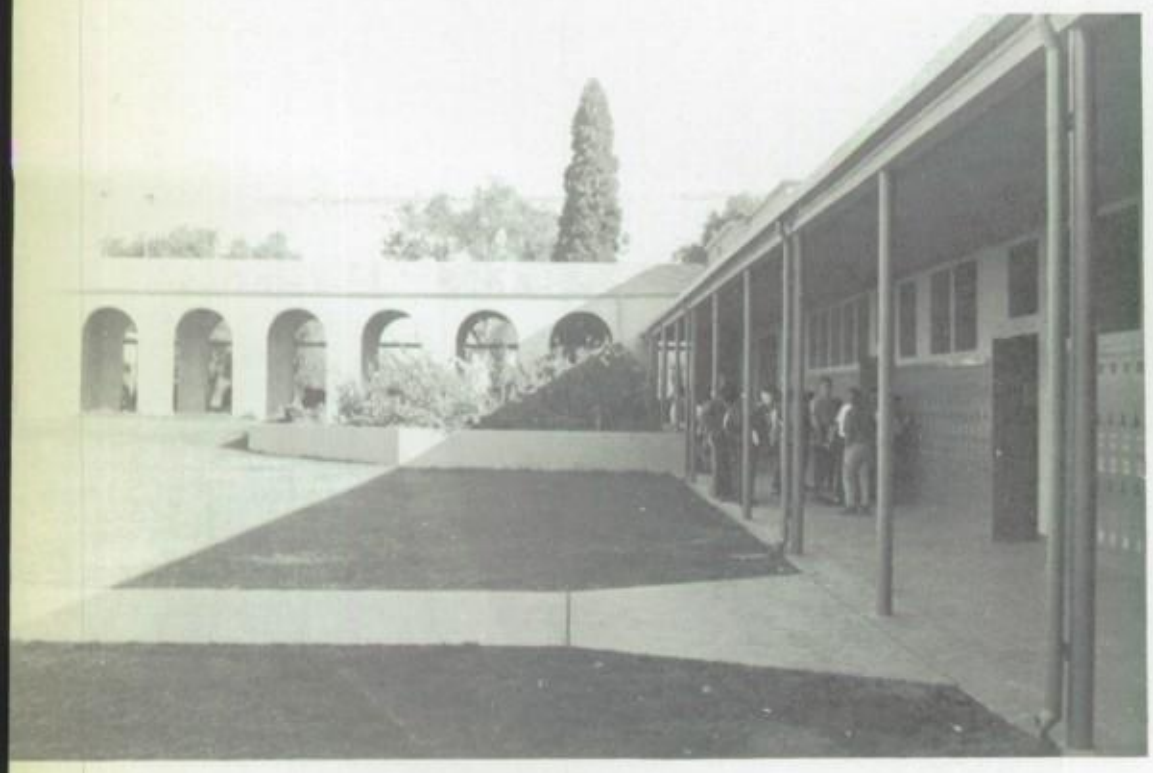
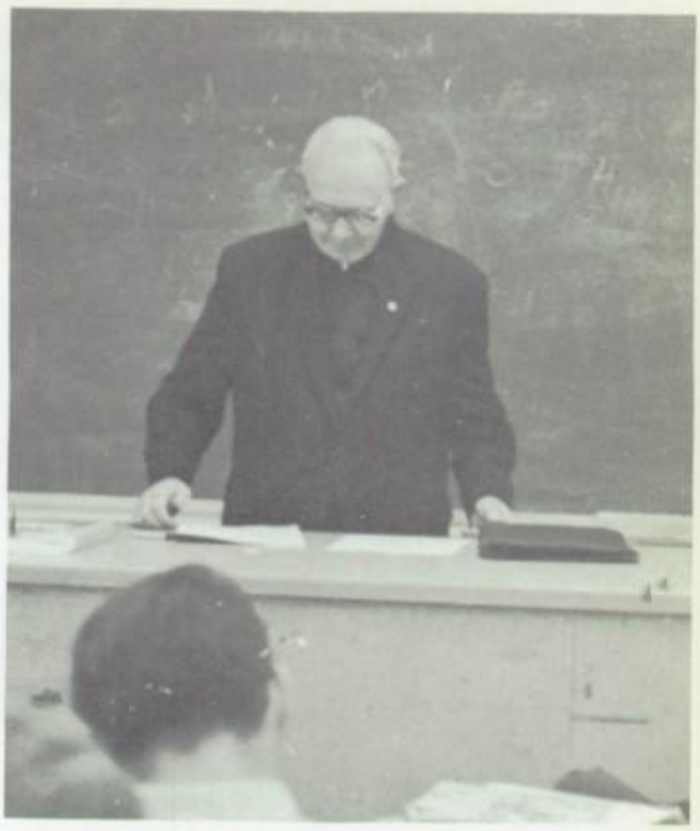
NEW SEASON BRINGS NEW LIFE

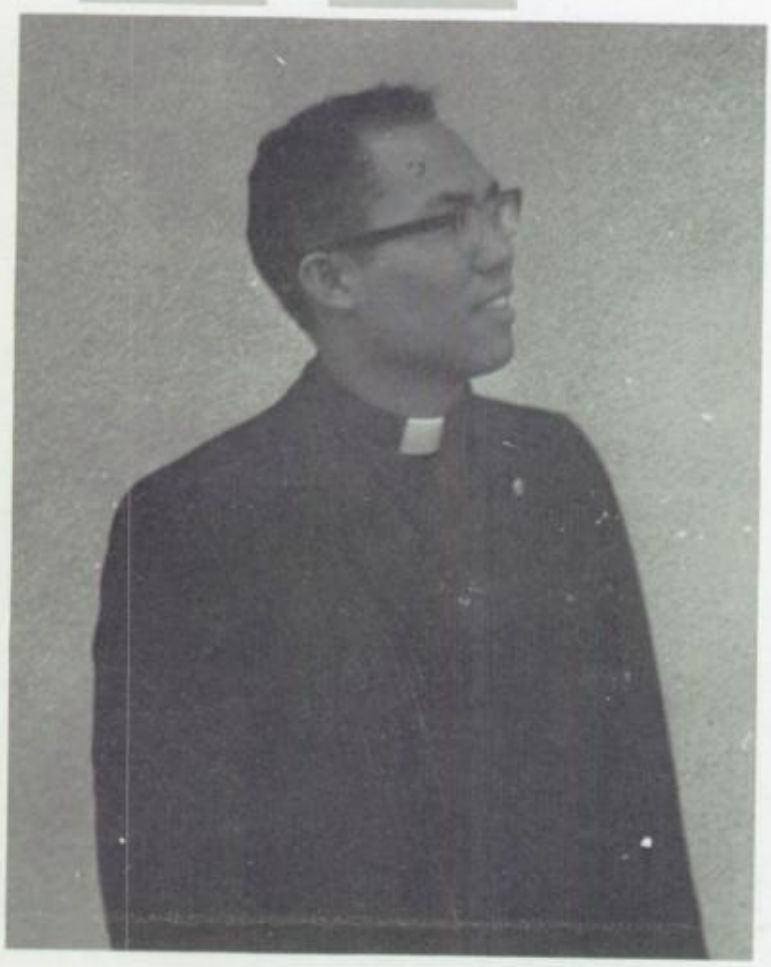
Damien High School moved through Spring. Changes abounded in our young school already noted for its vigorous pace. New construction, new teachers, new students, new challenges — and, yet, with all the change, the school was unmistakably Damien. The new only complemented the best of the old, beneath the imposing image of a benign Sacred Heart.



NEW TEACHERS BRING NEW ENERGY



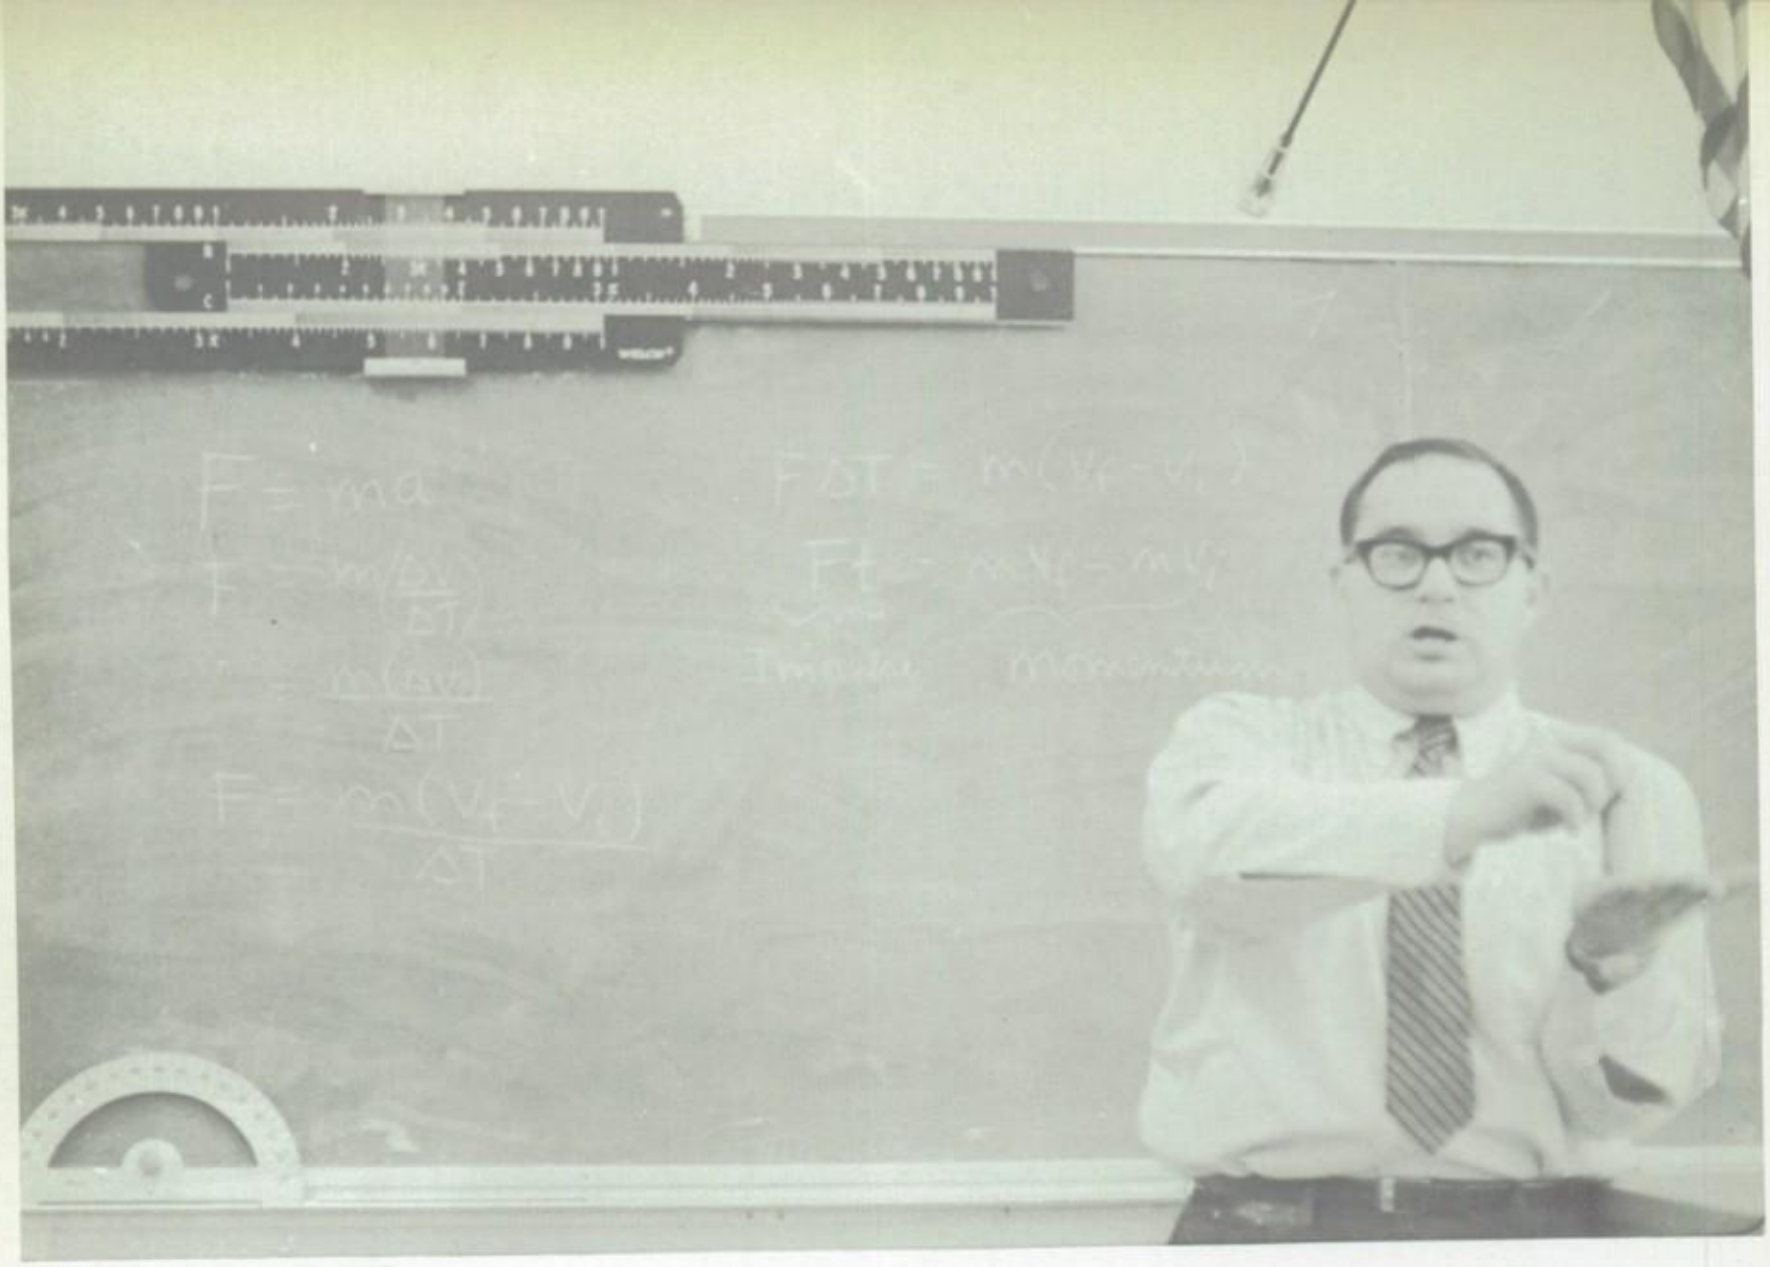
Father Kengen, S.S., C.C.



Father Omakanim, S.S., C.C.

New additions to the faculty for the Spring semester were Father Omakanim, who brought a fresh approach to the religion department, Mr. Don Drummond, who added his expertise in the field of English, and Father Emile Kengen, who came to the staff to help with science teaching. Father Joseph McGeady left temporarily at the end of the first semester to finish graduate studies in English.

Mr. Drummond



IN APPRECIATION

This yearbook would not be complete without considering a man who has influenced all of us here at Damien.

As a teacher Mr. Howard Teitelbaum has opened the minds of students to the world of physics and math. Even more than this he has given his students the power to reason and analyze for themelves, an even greater gift.

As a coach he has excelled in conditioning his athletes and teaching them both the fundamentals of soccer and football, and the lessons to be gleaned from total dedication.

As a senior counselor, Mr. Teitelbaum has demonstrated tact and wisdom. He has been a zealous participant in student affairs and has spent long hours moderating extra-curricular activities.

Coming to the school four years ago, Mr. Teitelbaum has witnessed many changes on our campus. He has helped maintain Spartan tradition, yet has always encouraged new ideas and improvements.

AND GRATITUDE

Mr. Teitelbaum has merited the admiration and respect of all who have had the good fortune to know him.

May 29, 1968

Fellow students and friends of Damien High School:

Another year is coming to a close and the first class of seniors will be leaving Damien High School; four years ago they were new to Pomona Catholic, soon they will be old grads of Damien.

It is a never ceasing pattern of life. That which is new today, is old tomorrow.

We have tried to sandwich between the thin covers of a book so many memories of unique experiences. We attempted to preserve the memories of this transitory life, the nostalgia of future years.

Speaking for the staff, we hope that we have served our purpose: putting in print that which has taken place during 1968, preserving the best of the new for posterity.

There are so many people who helped on the staff, it is impossible to name them all here. But those who did outstanding work were Franz Brown, who did virtually all our layouts, Bill Archibald and Stephan Lamb, who were in charge of copy, Doug Edelbrock, who helped out in crises of every kind. Also Paul Crea, our assistant editor, who helped and took my place in times of need. Thanks to Dennis Loudon, our photographer. Without him, this yearbook would not have been possible. Also thanks to Mike Griffin, who offered us moral support when we most needed it. We would like to give special thanks to Mr. Tonsing, our advisor, for giving freely of his advice and knowledge. He gave the annual a truly professional touch.

The staff was constantly indebted to Mr. Robert Herrick, our photography advisor; we feel that the increased quality of student photography was due considerably to his untiring efforts. The expanded ad section speaks for itself. Under Rick Brink's business management the Spartiate has more than paid its own way.

Thank you for waiting for the publication of the Spartiate, and We hope you thoroughly enjoy it.

Sincerely yours,

Robert Graef

One picture is better than a thousand words

Several pictures can say even more. Volumes could be written, but the awards shown here are dramatic proof of outstanding quality—a superiority you can readily recognize when you inspect with a critical eye these beautiful Olin-built homes. We are understandably proud of such commendation, coming as it does from these leaders in the home building industry.
